Plan your next steps with this directory:

The information was submitted by businesses who said they are eager to hire recent graduates. There are opportunities for you to work and get training. The list represents a fraction of the jobs in the area. As you start your search remember the tips below. To see employers which were added after the book was printed go to: <https://uppercworks.com/upper-savannah-sc-work-high-school-graduate-survey-april-2021/>. Find more jobs at: www.jobs.scworks.org.

Be prepared to answer the call to work by having an up-to-date resume, a good phone number, and a professional email address. Being punctual and putting forth the effort will lead to success.

"If you are applying for work be ready for an instant interview, we need workers and are ready to call applicants as soon as we receive their application."

Scott Coleman
HR Manager
Upper Savannah Workforce Development Board
Sage Automotive Interiors
Abbeville & Sharon Plants, Abbeville, SC

"Create a professional email address. billybobbuck-hunter247@gmail.com is not going to score you any points!"

Billy R. Morgan
Deputy Director of Workforce Development
Upper Savannah Council of Governments

"Getting a job is less like buying a lottery ticket and more like fishing. The more effort you put into preparation and the actual process of landing that great job the more likely you are to be successful."

Ann Skinner
Director of Workforce Development
Upper Savannah Council of Governments

"If your interview is scheduled at 10:00 a.m., please arrive around 10 minutes before. Do not show up at 9:00 a.m. or at 9:59 a.m. and whatever you do, please do not be late!" Always show up early!"

Shameka Brown
Municipal Court Judge
City of Greenwood, SC

Employers want workers with great work ethic who want to contribute to the success of the company. Many employers provide tuition reimbursement or other company sponsored training as a mutual benefit.

"Getting a job is less like buying a lottery ticket and more like fishing. The more effort you put into preparation and the actual process of landing that great job the more likely you are to be successful."

David Rosenbaum
Associate Dean of Students
Piedmont Technical College

"My first job was working in a sawmill with my grandad. This job taught me the value of having a positive mindset and great work ethic. My first job experience and all of my previous work experiences have assisted me in having success as a Superintendent in District 50. I would encourage all of our high school seniors to Dream Big and utilize all of the knowledge and skills they gain in their work experiences for their future success!"

Dr. Steve Glenn
Superintendent
Greenwood School District 50

Employers are looking for individuals who are flexible and have the desire to learn and make contributions to their organization.

"Anyone can bring their manager a problem; the employees that stand out are the ones that also offer a solution."

Julie K. Bagwell, PHR
HR Manager
Upper Savannah Workforce Development Board Member
CCL Label, Clinton, SC

"The Secret of change is to focus all of your energy; not on fighting the old, but building the new"

Margaret Glasgow
Business Service Representative
Laurens, Newberry, and Saluda County
GLEAMNS Human Resource Commission

"Skills can be taught. Attitude cannot. Having a positive, team-friendly attitude costs nothing but is extremely valuable."

Shunna Vance Jeter, CCAP
Chief Executive Officer
GLEAMNS Human Resources Commission, Inc.

"Applicants should have a professional voicemail greeting and should be available to answer their phone or provide follow-up quickly. While we do not expect interviewees to have on their Sunday best, we do not expect applicants to arrive with a ball cap on backwards."

Ann Blanton
Business Support Team Leader
Upper Savannah Workforce Development Board Chair
AstenJohnson, Clinton, SC

"Getting a job is less like buying a lottery ticket and more like fishing. The more effort you put into preparation and the actual process of landing that great job the more likely you are to be successful."

Ann Skinner
Director of Workforce Development
Upper Savannah Council of Governments

"Just because they make it in your size doesn't mean you should wear it...especially to an interview. Please wear appropriate attire and practice good hygiene prior to leaving for your interview. A great rule to follow is to dress two positions above the job you're interviewing for. Neat + neutral colors + clean + pressed are the formula for interview dressing success!"

Renee V. Robinson
Career Specialist
Center for Career and Professional Development
Greenville Technical College

When interviewing, be conscious of your body language and portray a professional image. Practice in a mirror until you are comfortable in this area. Also, maintain good eye contact while speaking.

Show me the money!

Do you want to compare wages for a variety of jobs? Do you want to see how you can turn an entry-level opportunity into a higher paying career? Check out: www.scworkforceinfo.com

Once you get to the website you can look at Job Journeys that show occupations at various levels of education for certain industries. Another resource is the Power Page for Job Seekers link that shows how to use the website to get more detailed information.

The Department of Labor’s website: www.mynextmove.org has a lot of information to help you make career decisions as well.

You are not in this alone. If you would like some one-on-one time with a workforce professional to help you make an informed career-decision, book an appointment by calling 864-229-8826 or online at www.upperscworks.com.

Congratulations Class of 2021!!!
